Q: unable to launch Intent inside loop I have an app in which I am launching an intent inside a loop and I am unable to launch the intent for certain values even though I can launch them outside the loop. The loop is in a button press.

String status = "UNKNOWN";
for (List coreList : getCores) {
for (String omsStatus :
coreList.getStatusList()) { if (oms Status.equalsIgnoreCase(status)) {
status = omsStatus; } } } Intent

intent = new Intent(getApplicationContext(), CoreSettingsActivity.class);
intent.putExtra("status", status);
intent.putExtra("val", 1);
intent.putExtra("action",
"com.example.test123");
intent.putExtra("id", "b1234");
startActivity(intent);

Here the new intent can not be launched for the certain conditions inside the loop and can be launched without that loop. How can I solve this? A: You've already got the problem in your loop. A value that you get out of `getStatusList()` is never the same as `status`. You simply initialize it to be "UNKNOWN". If you want to iterate over all of your cores and check if any of them are "UNKNOWN", you can use this:

String status = "UNKNOWN"; for (Core core : getCores) { if (core.g

```
etStatusList().contains(status)) {
status =
core.getStatusList().get(0); } } A
